Pursuant to the parties' agreement, counter designations and objections must be exchanged on June 10, 2005. Once the Plaintiffs receive the objections and/or counter-designations of deposition testimony from the Defendant, and the Plaintiffs submit to the Defendant the counter-designations and objections for any deposition testimony originally designated by the Defendant, the parties will submit to the Court a complete copy of each deposition which has been designated showing the portions designated by the Plaintiffs in one color and the portions designated by Defendants in another color. A copy of any exhibit which will be offered through the testimony of a deponent witness will also be supplied to the Court at the time the deposition testimony is offered.
